RATHE PROBABILITIES.—For this season fair to night: increasing cloudiness Tuesday night variable winds.

SMALLPOX.—Doctors Smith, Quackenbush, Klipstein and Howard commenced today a house to house inspection. As has been before stated, the Mayor desired eight physicians to perform this work so as to expedite matters, but it was impossible to secure that number, and yesterday, after receiving an assurance from Dr. Smith that the investigation could be thoroughly performed within two weeks, the appointment of four physicians, though the efforts of four physicians, the appointment of that number was made to avoid any delay in the inspection of physicians will not, during their absence, vacate any but those in immediate houses, directing all indigent patients in uninfected houses to the physicians to the poor. The inspectors have been reporting to Dr. J. T. Smith, the Health Officer, every evening, and in all matters pertaining to smallpox they will be under his supervision. The report that Dr. Rosen, the Marine Hospital Service, was not in the city on Saturday, was untrue, as the doctor has not been in the city since his first visit. The report of the Marine Hospital Service suggesting to the Health Officer the propriety of putting up yellow flags is also incorrect, as our own laws require that such flags be well known and have always been followed. There were two gentlemen connected with the Marine Hospital Service in the city on Saturday, Drs. Cummins and Baker. Dr. Cummins, being an old resident of this city, these gentlemen paid a friendly social visit to Dr. Miller and Dr. Miller, during the time of their visit, courteously took them around and gave them an opportunity to study the odd phases of the wonderfully mild type of smallpox now prevailing.

Several new cases have been reported since Saturday, among them two white persons, one Wm. Lyons, on Fawcett street, near Cameron, and the other a child named Davis, on Commerce street. The houses of all suspected persons are flagged at once as a safeguard.

Last night Mr. Norman Trekle, who is employed as a guard at a quarantine house, saw a colored man named Carter, upon whose face there was a suppurating eruption, attempt to board a train. The man was ordered off and proceeded to the station house. There Dr. O'Brien pronounced the man a smallpox patient and he was sent to the hospital.

The inspection was commenced at 11 o'clock today, and at 1:30 this evening Dr. Howard reported to the Mayor that he had inspected 30 houses in the upper end of the city and had not found a single case of smallpox.

Mr. J. E. Rodgers to-day commenced the erection of an annex to the hospital northwest of the city. The annex will be built about 100 feet from the old building.

Most of the patients at the hospital now are well and some have been discharged.

Vaccination has become quite general and a large majority of the residents of the city have been vaccinated during the past week. The vaccination in the public schools has been almost completed.

A BEAUTIFUL CEREMONY.—St. Martin's Catholic Church was the scene this morning of a most beautiful ceremony, the funeral mass, solemnizing the marriage of Miss Bay Fanill, daughter of Hon. Edmund Fanill, late Spanish and French Consul at Waterford, Ireland, and Mr. Gerald Carey, formerly of Tipperary, Ireland, now a promising young merchant of New York city. The ceremony was tastefully adorned for the occasion, the altars were fragrant with palms, potted plants and fresh cut flowers elegantly arranged, and glittering candelabra filled with wax candles diffused their soft radiance over the scene. The high mass was celebrated by the pastor, Rev. Father Cutler, assisted by Rev. Father Payne as deacon and Rev. Father DeMunich, of Frederickburg, as sub-deacon. At 8 a. m. the beautiful service commenced with the "Veni Creator Spiritus." While the inspiring hymn was being sung by the choir the bride, accompanied by her bridesmaids, Miss Judith Cutler, of Waterford, Ireland, and Miss Kathleen Clancy, of Washington city, approached the altar, where they were met by the reverend celebrant, attended by the deacon and sub-deacon. After a few touching remarks on the sacredness of the vows about to be pledged, and reminding them that they stood in the real presence of Him, who presided over the marriage feast of Cana, Rev. Father Cutler performed the beautiful marriage ceremony of the Catholic church. The bride and groom were then invited into the sanctuary where they remained kneeling during the nuptial mass. At three o'clock the most solemn parts of the mass the bride and groom came and knelt on the steps of the altar. Over them the priest read the beautiful prayers of invocation of the liturgy: "May the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob be with you. May He fulfill His benediction upon you, that you may see your children and your children's children till the third and fourth generation, and afterwards possess eternal life through the merits of our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ, amen." The scene was touching and inspiring when the bride and groom knelt together at the foot of the altar to receive the holy communion. After this heaven's blessing was solemnly invoked upon them by the celebrant; thus ended the beautiful ceremony of the nuptial mass.

The fair young bride was becomingly attired in dove-colored Tussore silk, the bodice trimmed with white satin, pearl passementerie and garniture of orange blossoms; a white hat completed her pretty costume. The bride carried in her hand a handsome bouquet of bridegroom, presented by Rev. Father Payne, with the compliments—"Virginitas to the Emerald Isle of the Ocean."

After a delightful wedding breakfast served in the dining room of the hospitable pastor of St. Mary's rectory, the bride couple took the Southern vestibule train to Washington where they will visit friends on their way to New York where they will reside. During her short sojourn in Alexandria the bride made hosts of warm friends, whose good wishes accompany her to her future home in the great metropolis.

PERSONAL.—Miss Jane Tyler Brockebrough, of Virginia, was married on Wednesday evening to Major Francis Mallory, of the faculty of the Virginia Military Institute, Lexington, at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. John C. Talliferro, in Baltimore. Among those present were Miss Virginia Corse, of Alexandria, and Miss Marshall, of Fauquier.

Mrs. Robert Newton Harper has cards out for Monday afternoon, February 6, from 5 to 7, when she will hold a reception at her home in Washington, assisted by Mrs. John F. Rixey, Mrs. John S. Barbour, of Culpeper; Mrs. William W. Smith, Mrs. W. W. Price, Mrs. Munce, Mrs. Atkins, Mrs. Townsend, Mrs. Ernest G. Walker, Miss Gibson, Miss Tongue, Miss Davis, Miss Geger, Miss Mantz, Miss Hynson, and Miss Ten Eyck.

An engagement just announced is that of Miss Mathilde de Bonneville, daughter of the late Dr. James S. de Bonneville, of this city, and granddaughter of the late Ebenezer Greenough, to Arthur Mason Chickester, Jr., of Leesburg. [Phila. Times.]

Mr. George Ayers, who has been sick with the grip for the past week or so, is able to be out again.

Rev. T. H. H. continues to improve and expects to be out again soon.

DEATHS.—A little child of George Conig died last night at his home, No. 732 North Columbus street, of pneumonia.

Mr. John Alexander Cole, forty-eight years old, died Saturday at his home, in Baltimore. Mr. Cole was born in this city about twenty-seven years ago. He was a moulder by trade, but for many years had been janitor of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce building, Baltimore.

Mr. James Pullman, son of the late Peter Pullman, died on Saturday evening last, at his home across Cameron road. Mr. Pullman was well and favorably known in this city.

News was received here to-day of the death in Murfreesboro, Tenn., of Mrs. Polly Murray, wife of Mr. Polk Murray, formerly of this city.

Robert Theron, the four-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. U. Fairfax, died at the home of his parents this morning. The little fellow with three other children of the family had been ill. They were all nursed with the same parental solicitude, and the others recovered, while death claimed the subject of this notice.

DEATH OF AN ALEXANDRIAN.—Mr. N. W. Burchell, one of the most prominent citizens of Washington, died on Saturday evening at his home in that city. He had been ill with grip for three days, when he was suddenly attacked with acute congestion of the kidneys, which resulted fatally. Mr. Burchell was a successful man in all his business affairs, upright and honorable, and his hand gave liberally at all times to charities, and his kindly acts were most often known only to those who received from him. Mr. Burchell was born in this city in 1828. In 1854 he married Miss Sarah Frances Landon, of Washington and went to that city in 1856, where, with Mr. Montgomery C. P. King, he established the large business on F street, which was continued by Mr. Burchell up to the time of his death. Mr. Burchell leaves a widow, two sons, and two daughters. A sister also survives him, in this city, Mrs. Sarah Shirley, widow of Mr. Chas. Shirley. The funeral was held from his late residence in Washington this evening.

FUNERALS.—The funeral of Miss Clara McDonald, who died suddenly on Thursday night last, took place yesterday evening from the home of her father, B. H. McDonald, on upper Duke street. The services were conducted by Rev. J. H. Butler, of the Baptist Church, assisted by Rev. J. E. Tucker, of the Second Presbyterian Church. The pallbearers were Messrs. Allison Hollings, Daniel Sullivan, Joo. Dennis, Robert Turner, Wm. Nugent and John Cowling. The interment was in the Southern Methodist Cemetery.

The funeral of the late W. E. Atwell, one of Alexandria's oldest citizens, took place yesterday evening from the M. E. Church South and was largely attended. The pallbearers were Messrs. Julian Higdon and Lakeener, of Washington, and D. H. Appich, S. R. Atwell and Anthony Brenner, of this city. Rev. J. T. Williams, of the M. E. Church South, conducted the services and the interment was made in the Methodist Protestant Cemetery.

"OLICE COURT."—Major G. L. Simpson presiding. The following cases were disposed of this morning: A young man, arrested by Officer Ferguson charged with carrying a concealed weapon, was dismissed.

John Bell, colored, arrested by Officer Hall charged with being drunk and disorderly, was fined $5.

Alexander Down, charged with being drunk in the street, was dismissed.

Carter Bradford, colored, arrested by Officers Goods and Deane charged with assaulting and beating Washington Bird, was fined $5.

Two men and one woman, arrested by Officer charged with vulgar and indecent language, were dismissed.

Night Report.—Last night was clear and cold. Three prisoners and several lodgers were at the station house.

ORGANIZED CHARITIES.—A letter was read in the various churches yesterday announcing that a meeting will be held in Peabody Hall on Saturday afternoon next at 3 o'clock, looking to the organization of a central charitable association. The objects of the proposed organization will be to cooperate with the various societies now in existence for the relief of the needy poor, to investigate all applications for relief, and to secure employment for those in need of it. The society will be non-sectarian and it is expected that representatives from the charitable associations of all the churches in the city will be present at the meeting.

CANDLEMAS DAY.—Next Thursday is a day of special devotion in the church, being the feast of the Purification, when the Blessed Virgin, in compliance with the Jewish law, presented herself in the temple forty days after the birth of the Saviour. It is also called "Candlemas," because on this day the candles prescribed for divine service are blessed. The day is also known as Ground Hg day. The movements of this little animal are believed by many to govern the weather for the following six weeks.

RUNAWAY.—An exciting runaway occurred yesterday evening. A pair of horses belonging to Judge Norton and attached to a buggy were being exercised on the Washington road by the colored driver when the animal took fright at a man on horseback. In the buggy with the colored man was a colored woman and both were thrown out soon after the horses started to run. The frightened animals came into Washington street at a break-neck speed with one of the wheels of the buggy off. Between Princess and Queen streets the vehicle struck a carriage step and was badly damaged, but the horses became free and dashed on down the street, making their way through a funeral cortege standing in front of the Southern Methodist Church. No further damage was done, however, and the horses were stopped when near the south end of the city. As stated above the runaway caused much excitement and brought many people to the streets.

MANDAMUS PROCEEDINGS.—The mandamus proceedings to compel the electric railway to lay a grooved rail on King street, between Fairfax and Royal, came on in chambers before Judge Nicol at Manassas to-day. The city was represented by Mr. G. L. Boothe and the company by Mr. J. R. Caton. The latter filed a demurrer on the ground that the city did not set forth in full in its petition the ordinances granting the railway the right of way over the streets, but simply set forth in substance these ordinances. The demurrer was sustained and after some minor preliminary matters had been discussed, the further hearing of the case was, by agreement of all concerned, continued till Saturday, February 11.

DAYS GROWING LONGER.—The increase in the length of the day now begins to be perceptible to even the most unobservant of people. From the beginning of January to the opening of February the gain hereabouts is almost three-quarters of an hour. Counting from the shortest day, in the latter part of December, an additional five minutes or so will be obtained. Most of the gain comes in the latter part of the day. Of the forty and odd minutes of increase made in January only thirteen minutes of the increase belong to the forenoon, the remainder being left to the credit of the afternoon. So much for the effect of the equation of time, which is the difference between mean and apparent time.

A CONGREGATIONAL VOTE.—At the morning service in the Baptist Church yesterday Rev. J. H. Butler, the pastor, took a vote on the question whether Mr. Roberts, the Utah representative to Congress should be allowed to take his seat or not, and whether or not liquor should be allowed in Alaska. He called upon those opposed to Mr. Roberts and averse to stimulants in the far away north to rise, and a number of those present responded. No one, however, rose when the opposite question was put, and the sense of the congregation was declared to be against the measure. The clerk of the church was directed to notify Senator Daniel of the action of the congregation.

THE CHURCHES.—The weather yesterday morning after 9 o'clock was clear but in the evening the skies became cloudy but cleared again early in the night. The churches were fairly well attended but in some of them the congregations were not so large as usual. At Christ Church Rev. Dr. Wallis, of the Theological Seminary, preached in the morning and at night; at St. Mary's Rev. Father Payne conducted services, and at the Second Presbyterian Church Rev. F. M. Burch preached at night. The pulpits of the other churches were occupied by the resident clergy.

SLIGHT FIRE.—The alarm of fire shortly before eleven o'clock this morning was caused by the partial burning of a shed over the oven in Mr. Harry Simpson's bakery, on the north side of King street, between Pitt and St. Asaph. The entire fire department was quick in its response and soon extinguished the flames, thereby checking what might have culminated in a serious conflagration.

HILL'S OPERA HOUSE.—The Stewart Comedy Company open a three nights' engagement here Thursday presenting the beautiful 4-act play "Comin' Thro' the Rye." Incidental to the production of the play high-class and refined specialties will be introduced. The performances given by his company are pure in tone and sentiment, and nothing is tolerated that will offend.

THE POTOMAC OFF.—Intelligence was received here to-day to the effect that the steamer Potomac, which ran around in Coan river some time since, had gotten off yesterday and had proceeded to Baltimore.
